VOLUME XXVIII. NUMBER 17.

IRONTON, MO.
THURSDAY, OCT. 25, 1894.

Announcements.

We are authorized to announce W. G. FAIRCHILD as a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Arcadia Township, Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the general election in November.

We are authorized to announce J. L. BALDWIN as a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the general election in November.

We are authorized to announce T. B. PRUITT as a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the general election in November.

We are authorized to announce PAUL PATTON as a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the general election in November.

We are authorized to announce H. KIDDLE as a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the general election in November.

We are authorized to announce C. B. HILL as a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the general election in November.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

J. L. Baldwin announces for Constable.

All kinds of plain and fancy stationery at the drug store, at reasonable prices.

The case of State vs. Harold Bruce is now on trial, and will probably be concluded to-day.

Judge Green came down Monday, and court is now in session, but with a very light docket.

The ground is strewn with maple leaves, and the denuded branches give solemn salute to the dread approach of winter.

The Official Ballot is printed in this paper. Let the voter familiarize himself with it, that he may use it intelligently on the 6th of November.

A peach tree in full bloom is an anomaly in October; yet that is what may be seen now on apt. Byers' premises in the north end of town.

A "warm, open winter" is predicted by the weather prophets. Ho, there! Five more cords of wood, and see to it that the ice-house is put in thorough repair!

Tuesday afternoon next Senator Vest will address the people of this section at the courthouse in Ironton, beginning at 2 o'clock. A speech from Vest is worth coming twenty miles to hear.

Mr. Abner Hancock, in response to our request for some one to beat his twelve-headed cabbage, brought another last week containing eighteen well formed heads. What a year this is for kraut!

Don't let that canning factory project go the way of the things that might have been. The Valley needs industrial enterprises, and there is none safer or of surer return to investors than this.

The Bonanza now boasts one of the largest, finest and completest stocks of groceries and fruits ever brought to Ironton. If you go and see what he has, you will be sure to buy something before you come away.

A party consisting of a few citizens of Ironton will meet the coming week to organize a company with the view of purchasing the Newman property for the purpose of turning it into a Sanatorium, with cottages for the accommodation of summer guests and friends of invalids.

An incipient fire, happily discovered before much damage was done, filled the parlor of Mr. Edgar's dwelling with smoke last Sunday evening. A piano lamp standing on the threshold between the parlors set fire to the wood-work overhead, and there is a job for the repairer.

Among the attorneys in attendance at court, are: Col. Keaton, Gov. Johnson, Judge Dinning, Mr. R. Smith, S. C. Walker, J. C. Cartwright, Wm. L. Beyersdorff, Jno. H. Raney, Wm. Zander, Col. Hines, M. L. Clardy and A. R. Taylor. The local bar—Messrs. Edgar, Wingate, Walker, Fox and Jordan—are all present and full of business.

Subject for the Presbyterian services next Sabbath: 10:45 A. M.—"The ideal and the real Christian life." 3 P. M., Graniteville—"The Church and the Lord." 7:30 P. M., Ironton—"Is religion compatible with business and professional life?" All are cordially invited. Strangers will find free seats and a hearty welcome.

Geo. H. DUTY, Pastor.

The Central Missouri Baptist Association met at the new church-house in the Fishes schoolhouse vicinity, Saturday, October 13th. The association was about to close with a sermon by preacher Bro. Brooks gained the floor and preached such a convicting sermon that the entire congregation seemed to be interested, and such a shouting and jubilee that ensued has never been known before in the Baptist Church. Sinners were convicted and converted. Christians cried and shouted for joy, and the morning hours were speedily before the services were closed. Elder Woods was called home, but a Mr. Smith is protracting the meeting, which up to this date is progressing wonderfully and attracting great attention.

Our readers will see that our columns are crowded and will therefore excuse our deferring the printing of several articles which otherwise would have appeared this week.

We regret to learn of the death of the little daughter of A. J. Langdon yesterday morning, and tender the sorrowing parents our sincere sympathy. The deceased, seven years old, was stricken but two or three days before with that fearful disease, diphtheria—a true case. The physician's skill, aided by all that love could suggest, availed not, and the young life went out despite of all.

DIED—On the 16 inst., ALEX. S. MOORE, of consumption, in Howard, Elk county, Kansas, aged 52 years. Mr. Moore was a resident of Reynolds county in this state for a long time, and will be remembered by many of the citizens. He removed to Kansas in 1879, where he resided until his death. He was an exemplary citizen, and all his friends hereabouts will regret to hear of his demise. (Reynolds county paper please copy.)

W. P. McCarver has changed his notion, and at present will not remove to Poplar Bluff. He will continue to sell all of his stock at cost during this month. Then the building will be refitted and painted. Remember, every thing at cost during this month. He is compelled to move this stock so he can paint inside of store. After being here with the people so long, it is like home to him. Now is the time to secure bargains at the Union Market.

Coroner Riecke has been doing his best to learn something of the antecedents of the person who was found dead on the track at Pilot Knob station several weeks ago. Mr. R. wrote to the various places where the deceased claimed to have lived, but no information so far has resulted. The chief of police at Detroit writes that no such person nor any person of the name of Robertson or Robinson lived in that city. To the other letters no response has been received. Will the deceased's identity never be known? We fear not; but we still persist in our inquiry: What became of the dead man's money?

The case of state vs. Martin Cox was tried yesterday. Cox was charged with having stolen a lot of dynamite, caps, etc., from the Schneider Granite Company. The articles were found in his house, but he was an employee of the Company, and claimed that they were what had been left over from his day's work at various times, and that it was his intent to return them and use them in the prosecution of his usual labor. The case was prosecuted by Messrs. Jordan and Wingate, while Mr. Edgar defended. It was given to the jury about four o'clock, which half an hour later returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The orders have gone out from the State Republican headquarters that the legislature must be captured, and we note in the various Democratic counties that the enemy is very quiet and pleasing in regard to everybody except him who is running for Representative. But against him insidious assaults are made, in the hope that there may be some fool Democrats misled, and, by hook or crook, enticed into voting for the Republican candidate for the legislature. Boss Filley is very slick, and if you will give him and his negro lieutenants control of the legislature, they don't care a snap of the finger for the other county officers. Democrats are our sudden-pated fools they take you for? We guess not, and the coming election will again teach them that fishing for gulls must be profitably done in other than Democratic waters.

The case of M. Seitz vs. the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway was settled last week by agreement. The railroad company had reinforced a culvert adjoining Mr. Seitz's property by putting in an inner arch of brick two feet in thickness, thereby reducing the capacity of the culvert for the passage of the water flowing through. In consequence, when the heavy freshets of last year and the year before came on, the waters, having no adequate outlet, were dammed against the railroad embankment, and the back-flow inundated Mr. Seitz's farm, causing considerable damage. The company failing to remedy the cause of the damage, suit was instituted, and this is the case settled, as above stated, by agreement. Mr. Seitz was given $875 for damage done, and assured that the culvert would be properly enlarged. M. L. Clardy, for the company, and Wm. R. Edgar for Mr. Seitz.

A special to the Post-Dispatch from Edwardsville, Ill., last Saturday, is not without interest to the people of this community, where all the parties concerned are well known. It reads as follows: "An instrument, without precedent in this county, was filed for record in Recorder Robert Hagnauer's office the other day. It is for the adoption of Mrs. Ella Butler Johnson, wife of Dr. H. Johnson of Collinsville, as a sister, by John W. Emerson of Ironton, Mo., all parties joining in the agreement and signing the instrument which recites in part as follows: 'Having long entertained the highest regard for the gentle pure and lovable character of Ella Butler Johnson, and having regarded, esteemed and treated her as a sister, and desiring to perpetuate such brotherly and sisterly relationship in a real and legal form, so that she may be truly and really my sister, in law as well as in fact and regard, and to the end that the relationship of brother and sister may always exist between us, in law, as fully as if we were brother and sister, born; and to the end that she may have and enjoy all the rights of inheritance from me as a natural-born sister would have in law, and to the end that we may each enjoy all the rights and privileges as brother and sister, born; I, John W. Emerson, with the consent, agreement and approval of her husband, and of herself, do hereby, in consideration of the regard, esteem and brotherly affection I entertain for her, adopt her, and do declare her to be my true and lawful sister, with all the rights of inheritance of a natural born sister and to have and possess any or all other lawful, pecuniary, social or other advantages existing or arising or accruing by virtue of such relationship of brother and sister forever.'"

Mr. Nelson Burks was married Sunday evening to a Miss Lashley, daughter of Geo. Lashley near Des Arc.

Mrs. Perkins of St. Louis, sister of Sheriff O'Neal, is visiting her old home.

I am sorry to see such a quarrel or

Mr. Holloman and the Road Law.

GRANITEVILLE, Mo., Oct. 15, 1894. Ed. Register—Will you be so kind as to give me space in your paper to ask Mr. Joel B. Holloman the following questions? First, I would like to hear from him in regard to the road law. Is that law for the rich man or the poor man, that a man that has money can pay two dollars and receive his receipt, and the man that has no money is compelled to work three days. Now, Mr. Holloman, how is this? I understand that you supported that law, and also you supported the law that a man when he was over fifty years of age could not serve as roadmaster or road-overseer. Now, Mr. Holloman, did you not stop to think that when you were supporting that law that at some time that your father was sitting on the county bench, and that he was in his dotage, or in other words he was 85 years of age or upward? Please answer through the REGISTER, for some of us old Democrats want to hear from you on the road law; and also, when a man pays his two dollars, what per cent does the roadmaster receive for collecting that money, and what amount is left for the road.

AN OLD DEMOCRAT.

We called Mr. Holloman's attention to the above, and following is his reply: "Yes, I voted for the bill, but I did it under protest and as a compromise. When the bill was before the Committee on Roads and Highways, who had it under consideration for two months, it was proposed to make the time for working out taxes four days, and several others went before the Committee and 'kicked,' and on compromise the time was reduced to three days. If we who were opposed to it had not agreed to do this, the original bill would have passed—for there were not enough of us to defeat it. A half-loaf is better than no bread, and if 'An Old Democrat' had been in my place, I believe he would have done just as I did: taken the half-loaf when he could get no more. I think that the roadoverseers ought to be taken from the men who pay the road tax, and when a man is exempted from the tax, he should be willing to let those who pay have the job. The roadoverseer gets no percentage on the tax he collects."

The Turner-Hartman Wedding.

The nuptials of Rev. J. H. Turner and Miss Rose Hartman were celebrated Wednesday, Oct. 17, at eleven o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents at Bellevue, in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends. Rev. J. A. Russell officiating. The bride was becomingly dressed in a handsome costume of pale blue color, moonlight on the lake—with trimming of applique lace and satin ribbon. The veil was confined to her dark hair by orange blossoms and pearl pins.

The groom was attired in evening dress. The bride was attended by her friend, Miss Lou Presnell of Bellevue, who wore a beautiful costume of baby blue nunsvailing, and looked very sweet. Rev. R. E. Atkinson of Caldwell acted as best man.

Refreshments were served in the good, old fashioned style, and were of the very best.

The presents were numerous and very handsome. After receiving many warm congratulations from friends, the happy couple left on the afternoon train for Poplar Bluff, the field of Bro. Turner's labors this year.

The young folks of Bellevue know they have lost one of their most charming girls, but our loss is Mr. Turner's gain. So we all bid them an affectionate "good-by," with many good wishes for a pleasant journey through life.

Farrar—Medlock.

*Married—At the home of the bride, 8 miles north of Summitville, last Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14, 1894, Mr. Theodore Farrar and Miss Jennie Medlock, both of this county. Both of the parties are well known in the county and their many friends will join the Herald in wishing them many long years of unalloyed happiness. Messrs. Clark, Dooley, J. L. Hodges and Misses Alice Gettys and Julia Rice, of this place, attended the wedding—Houston (Mo.) Herald.

A Card of Thanks.

Ed. Register—We beg leave to express our thanks, through the columns of the REGISTER, to the friends who so kindly rendered us their assistance during our late bereavement. May they in affliction and adversity always find such sympathizers as they have proven to us, is the wish and prayer of AUGUST SCHWAB AND FAMILY.

From Des Arc.

We are having the finest fall for business we have had for many years.

Warm and just enough rain to keep the ground in good order for seeding wheat. There is more wheat being sowed this fall than ever before, notwithstanding the low prices.

The lumber business is looking up a little.

Luke White is building a new storehouse at Bruce. Mr. Brown, carpenter from Annapolis, moved his old storehouse back one hundred feet on rollers in one day, and did not stop the clock from running. Brown is a first-class workman.

J. M. Morris has bought a fine $350 piano from James French Organ Co. They have also sold one piano to Miss Minnie Myers, and one organ to Jas. Lorence. Our town will have lots of music.

I had the pleasure of attending the Literary Society at our public school last Friday. The young men did well, and they deserve credit for their work. Our teacher, Mr. Key, is teaching the best school ever taught in this town, and the primary department department is also doing well. Miss Minnie Collins is doing her part nobly by the little ones.

Mr. Nelson Burks was married Sunday evening to a Miss Lashley, daughter of Geo. Lashley near Des Arc.

Mrs. Perkins of St. Louis, sister of Sheriff O'Neal, is visiting her old home.

I am sorry to see such a quarrel or such ugly letters as being printed in the REGISTER. It is a shame; it is only a family fuss, and they should keep it out of public print, and calling each other such bad names. If I was Eli I would not publish them, for it is of no benefit to his paper. Let them fight it out among themselves, and not have everybody reading their difficulty.

There were three cars of cattle shipped from here last week, and five more will go this week. Farmers are shipping off their surplus stock, on account of short crop.

C. H. Collins went to the Bluff last week, to see his son Willie. Widow Jack Lloyd's suit was argued in Supreme Court on last Friday. The decision will be handed down soon. There is no doubt but Mrs. Lloyd's suit will be sustained. It will help her $5000.

Whit Burgan, who left here four years ago, is back on a visit. He has been in bad health.

Chas. Clifton and Clay have bought T. B. Lowe's mill, and will put it in first-class order for grinding corn and wheat. They will make it a roller mill soon.

B. Brevington has opened up his new stock of goods, and is selling very cheap. If a man wants cheap goods and a good article, he will not have to go to Ironton to get it. Call and see him, and he will treat you right.

Revs. Lane and Desell are holding services at the Baptist church this week.

ISAAC.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption, and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., St. Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Crisp's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

Annapolis News.

Ed. Register—John Jordan, Sr., and John Jordan, Jr., former residents of this neighborhood, but now of Reynolds county, were in town Thursday. John, Jr. was charged with theft by Henry Brewer, and the trial was set for Thursday, but as the State's attorney failed to come the trial was postponed until Saturday. Saturday Mr. J. S. Jordan came down and dismissed the case, as the evidence went to show that John Jordan, Jr., had taken the gun by the permission of Brewer's family, or with their knowledge, at any rate. There was no evidence of larceny.

Mrs. Mulligan received an order from DeGarmo to stay at Annapolis.

Mrs. Harkworth, of near Lone Star, is visiting friends and relatives in Annapolis and vicinity.

Fred Tow of Canada is visiting relatives here.

Parson Umphry, and not "Murphy," as you made me say last week, has located here. Bro. Umphry seems to be a desirable citizen and we are glad to welcome him here.

As our next week, I suppose Annapolis will be well represented in Ironton.

Oct. 21, 1894.

MURPHY.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for croup. It is the best I have ever used, and it is the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children. I have known of cases of croup where I know the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." J. LaGrange, druggist, Avoca, Neb. 50 cents bottles for sale by Mrs. P. R. Crisp.

Bellevue Briefs.

The mountains surrounding our beautiful Valley are a glorious picture, with their colors of russet, red and yellow, interspersed with the green of cedar and pine.

Bellevue was represented at the St. Louis Fair by Mrs. A. Edmonds, Mrs. O. Buford, Misses Sadie Cartwright, Etta Lay, Minnie Presnell and Belle Palmer.

A. Hale, W. K. Read, W. J. Russell, N. Warren and wife, Mrs. J. W. Harrell and Miss Dora Van Nort.

J. H. Long was a juror in the U. S. Court, in St. Louis.

Mrs. Minnie Presnell is visiting relatives in Murfreesboro, Ill.

Mrs. H. Dansman came from St. Louis county, to attend the Turner-Hartman wedding.

L. S. Ruddeck, visited his old home in Bellevue recently.

D. F. Hartman is spending some days with his daughter in Reynolds county.

P. G. Cartwright, son and daughter-in-law, are visiting, at the Camp Ground.

James A. Reburn and family went to Arcadia last Sunday.

Miss Laura Valle is with friends at Fredericktown.

Mrs. G. W. Farrar has been entertaining her mother and sister from Chicago. She also accompanied her mother to Potosi to see her brother, Rev. H. Whitehead, before he left for his new field of labor.

Mrs. B. Lay has been on a brief visit to her parents in St. Louis county.

Mrs. H. Mathews has rented her fine farm, and will move to Arcadia as soon as she can get a desirable house.

Sorghum-making has been the order of the day for some time. Some of it is poor, both in quantity and quality; other places the yield was excellent.

A sneak-thief walked off with five gallons of molasses belonging to Will Goggins; he surely had a fondness for "stolen sweets."

Joe Bleakly went to St. Louis last Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Russell preached at the Methodist church last Sunday night, and Mr. Barton preached at the same place Thursday evening.

Mr. Atkinson is succeeding well with our public school. He is an earnest Christian, and his influence for good is being felt by the young people in the community.

Mr. McNab had his clover hulled at work in this vicinity last week, threshing out clover for the farmer. Hard times are teaching us a lesson in economy.

Henson and Charley Muse returned to St. Louis Saturday, after spending some time with the home folks.

Mrs. F. A. McFarland spent several days in Dismark with her sister Mrs. Ramsey.

Wm. Thompson has sold his saw and grist mill to parties who will move it to the Camp Ground. Mr. T. will perhaps get new machinery for his mill here.

Oct. 22, 1894. BELLEVUE.

From Burgundy.

There seems to be a revival in business in the West End; quite a number of new buildings erected and a general repairing going on. All seem to be making ready to meet the cold winter blast, which will be sure to come sooner or later.

F. M. Adams of Goodland has completed a large barn that will shed about 75 or 80 head of cattle, and many tons of hay. By the way, it is a grandly constructed building for a boy to supervise in the construction, but Frank is a boy that is full of energy and business. All that our country lacks, we haven't got enough Franks.

The Burgundy school is progressing nicely at present. All the students are learning well—that is, all that take an interest in their studies. Laura Henderson of Burgundy, 15 years of age, has all but gone over her 10 branches again; Bessie Henderson, a little sister of Laura's, 6 years of age, has gone over the 5th Reader the third time and is studying Ray's Practical Arithmetic, the 3d book, and will take up U. S. History and Geography soon. Bessie will challenge the county, taking in consideration her age and time in school.

F. M. Crocker of Bellevue was wedded to Miss Laura Sumpter of Clones recently. Joy and peace be unto them and theirs.

It is being reported that there are panthers around Burgundy and other places in the West End of the county. Some responsible citizens say that they hear them.

The squirrels are all gone to parts unknown; it is quite a task to find a squirrel now around Burgundy.

The chickens are still dying with cholera. It makes trade dull for the merchants in the West, as they had almost become legal tender.

Samuel Reburn of Arcadia was in our section recently, attending to his official business. Sam looks remarkably well. We are glad to see his health improved, as we need his assistance in writing up our tax-book and Sam strictly understands his business after 8 years' experience.

The sorghum machines are numerous through the country. We will all be as well as asses this year.

Jack Frost visited us three nights in succession, killing all vegetation that is not ice-proof.

The farmers have all completed their seeding, such as wheat, rye, grass and clover, and some wheat is large enough to hide a rabbit—a wee bit of a rabbit.

John Mitchell of Ironton was the guest of H. R. Henderson and family on the 7th inst. John was on a wild goose chase, but they did not quack to suit him, so he left them to do their own flopping.

A protracted meeting will begin at Sycamore Grove church the 13th. A grand time is anticipated in the way of religious exercise. We like to see the work going on, as we need more Christianity in our land.

Dry again in the West End of the county, but we can stand more of it at this season of the year than in July and August.

The Sunday Law.

MUNGER, Mo., Oct. 4, 1894.

Editor Register—What is the matter with our Sunday law? It seems that it is wholly disregarded by some of the Granite Companies, as on last Sunday blast after blast could be heard for miles round. Now, Mr. Editor, I think it is time that the better class of citizens should use the law and compel companies to observe them, as well as the common people. Of course the Prosecuting Attorney can do nothing in this matter unless there is a complaint filed against the offenders.

THE BIG SHOW AT DALLAS.

October 20th to November 4th, 1894.

On account of the Great Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition to be held at Dallas, October 20th, to November 4th, 1894, THE IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE will place in effect the very low rate of one fare for the round trip from all points on the system, excepting those located in Louisiana. Tickets on sale October 19th, 26th, and November 2nd, good for return until November 10th, 1894. All indications point to a most successful season for the holding of these great exhibitions, and the very low rate offered is an excellent inducement to guarantee a large attendance. For full particulars, tickets, descriptive pamphlets, etc., apply to nearest IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE Ticket Agent. H. C. Townsend, General Passenger Agent, St. Louis, Mo.

A Live Baptist Paper.

There is not a better religious paper published in the West than the CENTRAL BAPTIST. Its editor believes it to be his duty to publish a paper that shall in every sense be the exponent of the best thought of the denomination which he represents, hence both the editorials and contributed articles are full of merit. He further places proper stress on the importance of denominational news to his readers and therefore gives much space to this department. The Sunday School department is most ably edited, and the Family and Home departments are second to those of no other paper in this State. The paper is a point of mechanical makeup is good. The management is doing everything to extend the circulation of the paper. Just now they are taking new subscribers from Oct. 13th to Jan. 1st, for 25 cents. This is very liberal considering that the regular price of the paper is $2.00 a year. Every Baptist family ought to be not already receiving it ought to respond to this offer. Subscribe now. Send for sample copies to CENTRAL BAPTIST Publishing Co., St. Louis.

Missouri Granite and Labor.

Editor Republic—The agitation in your columns of the matter of using only Missouri material in the Kansas City Federal Building has already resulted in good. I understand that the granite and stone men of the State have determined to leave nothing undone to compel the Treasury Department to give our State an equal chance with others in the specifications now on file in the Supervising Architect's Office at Washington. I am informed also that the labor unions are about to take action looking toward the employment of Missouri mechanics and artisans in the preparation of the material and the construction of the building. If Missouri was not rich in all the class of material that will be needed in the erection of the finest and most costly edifices in the country and could not prepare and furnish them as cheaply as Maine or Georgia or Michigan, we would have no right to contend for the consideration we ask in this instance. But her granite adorns Federal, State and municipal buildings in this State and city. In Chicago and in many of the county capitals of Illinois, in Ohio, in Indiana and New York State our granite is used. The foundation of our Custom-house is built of it. The first story of the new City Hall is beautiful enough in color and texture. The residence of the late John T. Davis
